

WHAT DOES THE NEW U.S. FOREIGN POLICY TOWARDS CUBA MEAN FOR US IN THE U.S. AND FOR OUR PARTNERS IN LATIN AMERICA?

Join us for a discussion on the political and economic implications of the policy changes towards Cuba announced recently by the Obama administration and its effects on Latin America. Hear from three experts on the region about what the policy is, what it is not, and what other opportunities this may present for the Western hemisphere.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 4TH.

12 pm PST/1 pm MST/2 pm CST/3 pm EST

REGISTER AT

<https://attendee.gotowebinar.com/register/5373041010834976770>

ERIC OLSON

*Associate Director,
Latin America Program
Wilson Center*

CRISTINA EGUIZABAL

Central American Political Scientist, National Foundation for Development in San Salvador (FUNDE)

GEOFF THALE

*Program Director,
Washington Office on Latin America
(WOLA)*